The Advocates’ Quarterly

Volume 46, Number 4
March 2017
Cited as: (2017), 46 Adv. Q.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ARTICLES

- Recognition of Aboriginal Self-Government in Canada: The Changing Landscape
  Diana Ginn and Nicholas Hooper ........................................... 395

- The Paradoxical Presumption of Constitutionality
  Asher Honickman ................................................................. 421

- What Your Client Doesn’t Know Can Hurt You: Structured Settlement Essentials for Litigators
  Brittany Gillingham .............................................................. 433

- Standardizing the Assessment of Testamentary Capacity
  Kimberly A. Whaley, Megan Brenkel, Kenneth I. Shulman and Kerri L. Crawford .......................................................... 441

- Standing in the Way: Comparing Constraints on Access to Justice After the Liberalization of Public Interest Standing in Canada and Israel
  Matt Malone ....................................................................... 451

CASE COMMENTS

- Fontaine v. Canada (Attorney General): Privacy and Confidential Settlements with Government
  Emily Lieffers ..................................................................... 479

- Punitive Damages in Morison v. Ergo-Industrial Seating: The New “Wallace Bump”?
  Paul J. Willetts ..................................................................... 510